

SUN BEAMS

By WALTER M. BARRETT

Believe it or not, those 175,000 baby trout being nursed along at the San Francisco Fly Casting Club by Ed. Hommon are getting to be almost big enough to eat. Hommon extends an invitation to everyone interested in the development of the fish, to be planted soon in the Truckee river, to visit the club Sunday afternoon and see how the work is done. It will be an interesting visit, we assure you.

We have just learned of the selection of Tom Oliver for the position of general manager of the Feather River Lumber Co., and extend our hearty congratulations to Tom and the company which he will represent. We feel that the company made a very good choice.

None of us are going to relish the fact that before November 1 Hobart Mills will be a town of the past. Before that date, the town, so far as the Hobart Estate holdings are concerned, will be virtually deserted.

Several weeks ago the Truckee Fire Department made the announcement that a fire prevention committee had been appointed to look into fire hazards here and make recommendations for their elimination. It may be that the committee has been active, but no reports of the activities have been forthcoming. We hope the good issue has not been dropped.

PHILLIP KEARNEY IS HONORED BY ST. MARY'S FRATERNITY

Phillip Kearney, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Kearney of Truckee has been chosen as a candidate for membership in Alpha Phi Gamma Upsilon, 35-year-old campus honor society of St. Mary's College.

In addition to this, a thousand-word essay on a current historical or philosophical subject was required. Phillip chose as his subject, "The History of the Donner Party." To become member of the A. P. G. U. is considered quite an honor as only 20 students of the entire college, nine seniors, six juniors and five sophomores are eligible for membership this year. Phillip was one of the five sophomore class.

Charges of reckless driving, resulting in bodily injuries, which had been filed against B. Santini, 300 Lincoln Street, Roseville, by William L. He was charged with reckless driving. Heilano, a resident of the Crystal Lake area, was taken to the Southern Pacific hospital in San Francisco. Both men are employees of the Southern Pacific.

LET THERE BE PEACE!

If the C. I. O. and the A. F. of L. must have their civil war, their is no justification for their waging it on San Francisco's waterfront.

Last week the National Relations Board awarded jurisdiction of warehousemen to the C. I. O. This week or next in a decision elsewhere it will doubtless rule in favor of the A. F. of L.

With the large shipments of farm produce in danger of getting jammed in a labor deadlock, growers and consumers alike face incalculable losses if this jurisdiction battle is protracted by groups who refuse to accede to peace moves.

Public opinion will admire labor's stand if it recognizes that the board is a federally created body, that its findings carry the weight of the law, and that neither the law of the C. I. O. or the A. F. of L. should prevail against it, if there is to be a minimum of industrial strife. Let there be peace.

A LADY AMONG ROUGHNECKS

Little more than a shadow of its former self, the League of Nations has again opened up shop to hear the grievances of its clients. For the third time in six years the league finds itself put on the spot by the request that she take action against an aggressor.

China wants Britain, France, and some 50 other nations to give Japan an ultimatum demanding she pick up her guns men and planes, and get out of China. China thrust this question before the league six years ago—and the league backed down. Perhaps this body's inability to pour potent oil on the seething waters arises in part from the fact that most major member-nations have chosen to exploit the league when it pleased them, or quit it when they were huffed, or ignored it when accused of violating its covenants.

The league is finding it a difficult job to play the genteel lady in a world of rough housing.

TROUBLE IN THE BIG HOUSE

The attempted Folsom break showed us to what depths of ruthless savagery case-hardened criminals will resort in a mad dash for freedom.

The nation's Big Houses have long been fertile feeding grounds for underground plotting. There was the epidemic of attempted prison breaks a few years ago when convicts, goaded to fury in their last-chance thrusts to escape, turned Big Houses into gun-blazing infernos for a few hours. Folsom's Warden Larkin and his aides deserve high praise for the heroism with which they fought off the savage prison break attempt. For such attempts there probably is no cure.

Said Warden Smith of San Quentin the other day: "Just as long as there are prisons, just as long as there behind walls of stone and bars of steel so long will there be bloody and violent attempts to break through to liberty."

We Hope She'll Stay Awhile

Politically Speaking

By Jack Welter
United Press Staff Correspondent

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 30. —(UP).—The sensational 'Bloody Sunday' riot at Folsom Prison has lengthened the odds that District Attorney Otis D. Babcock will not attempt a third time to convict Assemblyman Gene Flint of bribery charges.

Although he employed investigators used in the San Francisco police graft investigation, Babcock was unable to turn up any new evidence between Flint's first and second trials. His investigators did find Mr. and Mrs. George Rinker of Los Angeles, but they were not permitted to testify.

Had Superior Judge Dal M. Lemmon allowed their testimony, observers believed Babcock would have had an inestimably stronger case for the jury to consider.

The Rinkers were ready to testify that Flint, prior to his departure for the 1935 legislative session—his first boasted to them that he intended to "sell his vote to the highest bidder."

But their testimony was not allowed, the court holding it did not bear directly upon the indictment charging Flint with offering a bribe to Assemblyman Fred Reaves of San Pedro during the 1937 session.

Not only is Babcock confronted with the extra work of prosecuting the five convict survivors of the attempted Folsom break, but results of the second trial were extremely discouraging to the Sacramento prosecutor.

The first trial found the jury deadlocked 10 to 2 for conviction when it was dismissed. But the defense strengthened its case between the first and second trial and the second trial jurors divided evenly, six favoring conviction and six favoring acquittal.

Aimee Speaks

Aimee Semple McPherson, noted evangelist, shown here addressing a crowd of future preachers of her gospel from the banner-bedecked balcony of her Four Square Bible College.

In view of this loss of ground Babcock, who reportedly is eyeing the 1938 superior judgeship race, may deem it unwise to risk more money in attempting to get a conviction, which attempt seems likely to end once more in failure.

Although the second Flint trial was exceedingly short, requiring only three day's court time from jury selection to dismissal, it was exceedingly productive of amusing incidents.

Assemblyman Reaves provided one of the trial highlights. First, he almost caused a mistrial in the early stages of the hearing by stepping into the jury box to speak to a woman friend on the panel.

But his supreme contribution came as Deputy District Attorney Francis O'Shea was delivering the state's closing argument, demanding that Flint be convicted. Reaves sat in a chair close to the jury box, scarcely an arm's length from the prosecutor.

As O'Shea reached oratorical heights in denouncing Flint, Reaves' head nodded lower. Finally, as the attorney reached the dramatic conclusion of his argument, Reaves began to snore.

Judge Lemmon dismissed court and Reaves was awakened by the commotion.

Flint brought back memories of the clowning episodes so familiar in the assembly chamber during the 1937 session. During a recess, a newsman produced a cigarette and asked Flint for a match.

Flint produced a paper packet and handed it over. When the reporter lighted a match from the package, it exploded with a sharp detonation. Bystanders laughed.

Some time later, Flint deep in conversation, put a cigarette in his mouth and struck a match. It exploded, startling Flint and providing witnesses with a laugh.

AGED TAHOE MAN LEAVES LAKE FIRST TIME IN 30 YEARS

TAHOE CITY, Sept. 30.—Strange in this day and age, but true, is the experience of Felix Kuchler, 79-year-old native of Switzerland and Tahoe resident, who was taken to the hospital at Auburn last week by Constable Harry Johanson.

Just 30 years ago, Felix, long a familiar and picturesque character about town, crossed the Donner summit by wagon team on his way to Tahoe over the narrow, winding road which little resembles the new modern highway of today. Many are the tales he could tell of the early settlers here and their tribulations.

For some years after his arrival in America from his native land, he worked in various lumber camps about the state, finally settling at Tahoe from where he has never journeyed for 30 years. His trip to Auburn was the longest he had ever taken in an automobile and although he speaks but little, he was awestricken by the progress which has taken place especially in regard to the building of the fine highways he traveled for the first time.

In his earlier days he was famed as a fisherman and held the position as caretaker at the Kent estate in Tahoe Park for years. As old age and feebleness overtook him he was permitted to reside at the Tavern in one of the houses north of the fish hatchery campgrounds where the horses are pastured. Despite his age, in winter and summer he walks to and from town for his supplies and is remarkably spry for his years. The county and state combine in allowing him a small pension which is augmented by small sums from the town people to care for his needs.

We were glad to know that his illness is not serious and that he will be returned to the lake following a period of rest.

Miss Donaldine Grass, Sacramento Junior College instructor, enjoyed the week end at her Tahoe cottage on the crest of the hill near Dollar curve, and entertained a group of young ladies from Sacramento. The party included Miss Norma Kroull, instructor, and Sophomores Joan Finch, Elizabeth Brady, Frances Dupzyk, Dorothy Monroe and Virginia Moore. The young ladies had just returned from Reno where they had participated at the Play Day at the University of Nevada. They excelled in both hockey and badminton.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Henry enjoyed a picnic at Pyramid lake Tuesday. Mary Frazier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Frazier of Lake Forest lies critically ill in an Auburn hospital according to word received on Monday evening. Her parents are at her bedside but no late word has been received.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Marshall, the former some 20 pounds heavier, have returned from a three weeks vacation camping trip in the Hell Hole region where they enjoyed long days of excellent fishing and hunting.

New showers and garages are being erected at the Fish Hatchery campground north of town, boys of the local CCC camp being used as laborers on the project.

Tahoe residents will realize more fully after the coming Sunday that the winter season is almost upon us, in spite of the lovely sunny weather which still prevails. Only once more will mail be distributed on Sunday that being October 3. No more Sunday mail will leave town from now on as the winter schedule is under way.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Cosby and Cy Lewis of Auburn enjoyed Sunday at the lake, visiting at the Charles Swansons.

Mrs. Richard Kirman, wife of Nevada's governor, accompanied by her daughter Claire and sister, Mrs. Ida Clemons of Oakland, enjoyed the visit to Tahoe Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brodehl and three children left last week for Detroit where they will remain for a month.

Ernie Crawford, mechanic at Henry's Tahoe City Garage, accompanied by Bud Slater went on horseback to Grey Horse valley last Saturday. Five minutes after Crawford got off his horse he brought down a fine big two-pointer, not another shot being available during the entire trip.

A group of nine men enjoyed a highly successful hunt in Grey Horse Valley last week end, returning to town with 14 fine bucks. The party consisted of Bob Skates, who packed them in and out with his 24 horses, M. Franceschini, M. S. Rose, Sidney Bell, Leland Stephanson, Manuel Perry Howard and Ralph Rose all of Newman; A. F. ## FRED MANLEY WEDS AT RENO CEREMONY

TAHOE CITY, Sept. 30.—A marriage of interest which surprised their friends last week was that of Fred A. Manley, business partner of William Lambert, local real estate man of Tahoe Park and Miss Edna Bretz of Chicago.

The couple slipped away quietly to Reno where they were married last Thursday at the Baptist church. They will remain at Tahoe during the remainder of the season, going to Hollywood for the winter.

They have sold their little home and given up their position as caretakers at the Milton estate and will leave from Truckee on the train for East Burke, Vermont, where they will henceforth make their home.

Ill health for both of them brought about this decision and it is most unwillingly that they part from their associations they have enjoyed for so many long years.

This Week
At The State
Capitol

By JOHN ABBOTT
United Press Staff Correspondent

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 30. —(UP)—Death of Folsom Warden Clarence A. Larkin last week from knife wounds suffered during an attempted prison break at the state's toughest penal institution saddened state officials and hundreds of friends at the capitol.

The strapping prison head succumbed to complications resulting from 12 thrusts through the abdomen and lungs after an heroic five-day battle.

Known as a stern but fair-minded disciplinarian, Larkin was praised throughout the state for his high courage in time of trouble. He refused convict demands that he order tower guards to lay down their guns, thereby permitting them to escape through the gates.

During a recent visit to Folsom, newsmen laughingly remarked that it was about time for another of the sporadic outbreaks which have earned for Folsom a reputation as one of the nation's leading "hot" criminal institutions.

"Well," Larkin said, "everything is quiet now, but you boys know what this place is—it is like sitting on a powder keg in a match factory."

District Attorney Otis D. Babcock, who has already secured murder indictments against the five surviving convicts who participated in the rioting, for the murder of Guard Harry E. Martin, said he would ask the grand jury to re-indict the men for Larkin's murder. The prosecutor hoped to secure an airtight case thereby and send the felons to the lethal gas chamber.

Larkin's place will be hard to fill. Meanwhile, San Quentin Warden Court Smith, who preceded Larkin at Folsom, will take charge of both institutions until the board of prison directors can name a successor.

Mentioned as probable choices were captain of the guard William J. Ryan recovering from injuries suffered in the same fighting which claimed Larkin's life; Fred Esola, San Francisco, former United States marshal, and Clyde Plummer, former detective attached to the district attorney's office in Los Angeles.

A western aviation planning conference sponsored by Governor Frank F. Merriam drew nearly 200 delegates, including leading figures in commercial aviation and ranking military and naval officials, to a three-day discussion of problems affecting United States aviation.

The conference was scheduled to adopt recommendations suggested in group discussion, covering a long-range view of such factors as aviation development, national defense and cooperation between government and business in aviation.

Two more names went before Gov. Merriam for consideration as non-son visited parts of his district west of the summit on Saturday.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hill of Hobart Mills, in a Reno hospital on September 22.

Harry Maggard, who operates the resort on Independence Lake was a Hobart visitor on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Worn of Calpine were Hobart visitors on Saturday.

H. A. West who is connected with the Boca Ice Company land holding was a Hobart visitor on Friday and Saturday last week.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Murray and Mr. Murray's sister, Mrs. Anna Cushion and their father, Edwin Murray are leaving for Standard to spend the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Murray and son. Mrs. Cushion will remain at Standard to visit her brother and family before returning to her home in San Jose.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Wilson were business visitors at Quincy and Loyaltan on Tuesday.

nees to the enlarged state fish and game commission. They were Dan L. Beebe, Oroville publisher and sportsman, and Clarence E. Wilson, resort proprietor of Bridgeport, Mono County.

Beebe has been active for many years in the preservation of the state's wild life. He was one of the organizers of the Stanislaus-Tuolumne County Fish and Game Protective association.

Wilson's appointment was urged by numerous Mono county residents, who told the governor the large recreational area in their East Side Sierra district was in need of representation on the commission.

District Attorney Otis D. Babcock, after two unsuccessful attempts to secure the conviction of Los Angeles Assemblyman Gene Flint on charges of attempted bribery in the legislature, called it quits and secured from Superior Judge Dal M. Lemmon a dismissal of the case. Democratic forces throughout the state, already harassed by sufficient factional strife to give them full-sized headaches, were known to be considerably relieved by the action.

State Relief Administrator Harold E. Pomeroy said officials could anticipate a combined SRA and WPA winter relief load of 175,000 cases.

Merriam named a commission of 25, headed by Florence M. McAuliffe, San Francisco lawyer, to administer the $5,000,000 appropriated by the 1937 California legislature for the Golden Gate International Exposition.

SENATOR KEOUGH PLANS TO REINTRODUCE BILL
GIVING INDIANS LIQUOR

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 30. —(UP)—State Senator Karl P. (Chief) Keough of Inyo county intends to reintroduce his liquor for Indians bill if he is reelected to the legislature.

Announcing he would be a candidate for the senate again next year, Keough said:

"And if I am returned to the senate, I'll reintroduce my Indian bill. The pioneer law forbidding the sale of liquor to Indians is discriminatory, foolish and unwarranted nowadays and should be repealed."

Keough's bill permitting the sale of intoxicating beverages to Indians was passed by the 1937 legislature, but Gov. Frank F. Merriam vetoed it.

PEAK LOAD OF OVER 175,000 RELIEF CASES IN COMING WINTER

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 30. —(UP)—State Relief officials anticipate a peak load of 175,000 cases on the SRA and WPA rolls this winter, according to Relief Administrator Harold E. Pomeroy.

Bumper crops which attracted greater numbers of migratory laborers to California this summer were expected to complicate the picture.

At present, Pomeroy said, there are 39,000 cases, representing 135,000 persons listed on SRA rolls alone, while combined SRA and WPA rolls showed 115,000 cases listed as of Sept. 1. Both figures and estimates were encouraging, however, in view of the decreases from the February, 1935, winter peak of 285,000 cases and 900,000 persons. In 1937, Sept. 1 records showed 153,000 cases listed and 201,000 cases on the same date in 1935.

HORSE SHOW WILL BE ATTRACTION AT PLACER CO. FAIR

The horse show schedule for the last two nights of the Placer County Fair, Horse Show and Rodeo in Roseville on October 8, 9, and 10 will be an unqualified success and will show some of the best horses in northern California, it was promised this week by O. E. Saugstad, chairman. Entries in the various events have been received from some of the most famous horse breeders of the state, including many of the prize winners at the state fair and other horse shows.

Many of the entries are to be restricted to Placer county, livestock only, under terms of recommendation of the general committee, as a means of encouraging the breeding of stock in this county. However in many events the entries are open, in order to provide proper competition and to put on a really worth while show. Saugstad announces the entry lists are still open and invites anyone interested to communicate with him at Roseville.

POLITICALLY SPEAKING

The Los Angeles legislator does not expect to seek reelection next year, he said. But he does have aspirations of running for a seat on the Los Angeles city council.

"I was a cinch before this thing came up," he said. "I'm not so sure now, but I intend to run anyway."

Since leaving the legislative session, Flint has been working for the city of Los Angeles, he said. His job, which pays $115 a month, is painting safety zones, curb parking zones and other traffic designations on city streets.

Flint expects a majority of the assemblymen involved in the investigation which resulted in his indictment to be back seeking reelection in 1938.

He believes Assemblyman Charles Hunt, Los Angeles Democrat, however, is serious about running for state treasurer and won't be back at his assembly post. Another assemblyman expected to make a strong bid
